with requests for reservations, and an additional one hundred have been printed. Wade Knapp, in charge of ticket sales, announced.

The Maie Day show, "Pass the Bucks," went into last minute rehearsals Thursday evening, with all the cast and numbers reporting to an advantage. Virginia Lee Long, show chairman, said rehearsals so far have indicated "a smooth, finished production."

German Club Banquet to Be Held Tonight

Omaha University's German club will banquet at the Musik Verein, 17th and Cass streets, Friday evening at 6 o'clock.

Students from the University's foreign language classes and representatives from Omaha German club groups will attend the banquet.

Miss Ingeborg Osterlin, Nebraska University exchange student from Germany, will be principal speaker. Miss Osterlin will speak on "Education Under Hitler."

Award Prizes

Prizes will be awarded for the best essay submitted on current affairs in Germany. The winners of this contest will receive cash awards from Val J. Peter, publisher of the Omaha Taegliche Tribune and United States Marshal.

Members of the German club banquet committee are: Olive Musil, June Erickson, Julian MacPherson, Bernard Pawloski, and Martin Speckter.

University Club Meets In Bluffs

The International Relations club met Wednesday evening at the home of June Erickson in Council Bluffs. Among those who attended were Josephine Carroll, Janet Marks, Bernice Perlmetter, Franklin Buxton, Phyllis Warrick, and Shepherd L. Witman, sponsor, Mrs. Witman and James McCreary.

Mrs. Daniel E. Jenkins Discusses University Growth With Sealock

TALK UNIVERSITY DEVELOPMENT.—Mrs. Daniel E. Jenkins, widow of the first president of Municipal university of Omaha, is shown with Dr. William E. Sealock, president, as they discussed the development of the institution today, in Dr. Sealock's office. Here on a visit, Mrs. Jenkins made a short talk to the student body.

Indian Plan Wins Approval By Large Vote

By a vote of 257 to 16, Omaha university students Wednesday afternoon approved the Long-Speckter Indian tradition plan, and Virginia Lee Long and Martin Speckter will be awarded the $10 cash award offered by the Alumni association.

The vote of approval terminated a two-semester campaign to adopt a set of Indian customs and ceremonies for use at University festivals. Suggested by Dr. William H. Thompson, dean of men and president of the Alumni association, the alumni group offered a cash prize for the best set of plans submitted.

The Gateway opened its columns to the support of Dr. Thompson's suggestion, and ran weekly articles on the development of the various plans. A Gateway committee, composed of Virginia Lee Long, Annette Lloyd, Howard Wilcox, George Knipprath, and Martin Speckter, journeyed to Macy, Neb., to the Omaha Indian reservation there.

At the reservation the five students conferred with Indians on suitable customs that could be utilized at the university. Long and Speckter submitted a joint plan, which was approved by the Student Council, and then submitted to the students for election.

To Publish Booklet On Faculty Members

Due to the increasing number of requests for Omaha University faculty members as speakers, the Extension Division will publish, in July, a booklet containing sketches of the University faculty members and a brief description of the lectures which they are in a position to offer.

Industrial Tour Visits 20 Local Factories Today

The Industrial Tour got underway at eight o'clock this morning for the Chemistry, General, and Engineering sections, and at nine o'clock the fourth division, or the Business Administration section, started.

Students from Omaha University and high schools and colleges in Nebraska and Iowa are participating in the tour. They have the choice of going on either of the four tours, each of which is divided into two parts, A and B tours.

All the separate tours will meet at noon for a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce dining room in the W. O. W. building. Each tour lasts all day, and those Omaha University students who are attending are excused from all their classes today if they have a permit from the Registrar's office.

Over twenty industrial firms of Omaha will be visited and special demonstrations have been arranged at many of them. Among the itinerary are included visits to the World-Herald, Bee-News, Hardin Ice Cream Company, Bell Telephone Company, Nebraska Power Company, Swift packing plant, and the Union Pacific shops.

The executive committee in charge of the Industrial Tour is as follows: Miss Nell Ward, faculty sponsor; Martin Oelrich, general chairman; William Haberstroh, and Stanley Kurtz.

THOMPSON SPEAKS TO CLUB
"Young Men and the World Today" was the topic of an address given by Dr. W. H. Thompson, head of the Psychology department, at the Young Men's Interclub Council dinner at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening.

Strike Signs On Bulletin Board

Signs supporting both sides of the street car strike appeared on the bulletin board Wednesday afternoon — but after a few minutes only the pro-union placard remained.

One sign read: "Students! Maintain U. S. Standards of Living—Don't Ride the Cars." Beside it was a sheet of wrapping paper on which was scribbled: "Ride the Cars. Break the Strike. Down With the Union."

Later the two signs were torn off.

12 ENTRIES IN ANNUAL D. A. R. ESSAY CONTEST

$10 Prizes Awarded by Group.

ON U. S. HISTORY

Twelve entries were received for the essay contest on topics of American history sponsored by the Major Isaac Sadler chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, announced Dean Edgar A. Holt, Tuesday. Two awards of ten dollars each will be given.

Those entering the contest were Mrs. Inez Bradford, '35, Phyllis Warrick, '35, Esther Blackstone, '35, Edwin Callin, '35, Howard Sorenson, '35, Frances Elliot, '35, Leslie McClelland, '35, Fay Lane, '36, Hortense Geisler, '36, Bernice Perlmetter, '36, Lucille Mitchell, '36, and Milton Moore, '36. The majority were written on the topics "Constructive Policies of Nineteenth Century American Presidents," or "Roosevelt's Interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine."

The essays will be judged on the basis of form, content, correctness of English, and loyalty to American ideals.

The essays will be turned over to the judges, who will turn in their decisions to Miss Genieve Clark, the state regent of the D. A. R. On commencement day Mrs. James S. Ainscow, retiring regent, will present the prizes to the winners.

"This is just one of the many instances of the D. A. R.'s attempts to interest the young folks in the ideals and history of their own country," Mrs. Ainscow said Wednesday. "A national project of the Daughters of the American Revolution." (Continued on Page 4)

Purchase Containers To Place In Halls

The University has purchased refuse containers to be placed in Joslyn Hall and on the campus and the men's faculty building, announced Bursar L. D. Crenshaw Wednesday.

"The students are requested to co-operate with the administration in their efforts to keep the campus and the halls clean and orderly," said Crenshaw.

Yearly Event For All High Schools.

HERE TOMORROW

The annual Play Day sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association will be held on the University campus, Saturday, May 11. Two hundred guests are expected, which will include representatives from the five Omaha high schools, Brownell, parochial schools, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Sidney, Iowa, and Blair, Nebraska.

The play program for the morning will consist of baseball Nebraska ball, bean-bag bombardment, dodgeball and soccer baseball.

Folk Dances On Campus
At the same time a conference for faculty members will be in session to discuss the problem of girls' athletics, with the following speakers on the program: Mrs. R. E. H. Stevens, Mrs. Pearl M. Weber, Mrs. Jimmie Musselman, and Miss Ruth Diamond.

An exhibition of physical education books and literature will be on display in the women's building.

After luncheon, the guests will participate in folk dances on the campus green, under the direction of Miss Diamond and Mrs. Benson.

Board Sets Up Grade System

The Board of Student Publications will meet Monday noon to consider a staff for next semester's Gateway.

The Board at a meeting Wednesday noon accepted a grade point system as devised by Dr. William D. Maclay, a member of the Publications Board. The system credits students with five points for each hour of A and four for each hour of B and one down to zero for F.

A further requirement for Gateway eligibility, it was decided, the student must be passing in at least 12 hours during the semester.

Omaha In Triangular Track Meet Today

The Omaha University Track Squad will journey to Wayne this afternoon to take part in the triangular track and field meet in which Wayne, Morningside and Omaha are competing.

Omaha will make a good showing in the field events, but lacks enough runners to be considered a winner in the Wayne games. Coach Hartman will take nine men on the trip: Leo Peary, Harold Johnk, Norman and Howard Sorenson, Jack Slumpy, LeRoy Olsen, "Tippy" Tyler, Milton Moore, and Cliff Anderson.

THE SUMMER SESSION

WITH the spring semester drawing to a close the age-old problem of the student finding something to do during the summer months is again brought up. For the student who cannot find employment the Omaha University summer session offers a profitable way to spend a portion of the summer while allowing more than six weeks for a vacation.

For the student who desires to make up credits, to take work for which he cannot find time during the regular academic year, or who desires to reduce his study load during the regular school year, the summer session represents an excellent opportunity. To others who wish to find a profitable way to spend a portion of vacation the summer session represents an equally valuable opportunity. Anyone interested should secure a summer school catalog and investigate further.

DIPLOMA FEES

BEFORE graduating from Omaha University a student is expected to pay a ten-dollar diploma fee. At other public owned universities, including Nebraska, the fee is usually five dollars.

A ten-dollar fee for twenty-four announcements and a diploma is a bit steep in view of the fees charged for this service at state-owned universities in Nebraska. The Board of Regents in approving next year's budget should investigate this matter and bring it into line with other charges at the University.

FACULTY PROTEST ICE STATION

THE fact that the faculty has taken action to join the Covenant Hospital in protesting the presence of an ice station on the campus is welcome news indeed. The action of the faculty, long overdue, may be a sufficient prod to secure the removal of that unsightly structure, the ice station, from the campus.

Until the faculty took action Wednesday the Covenant Hospital and neighbors in the vicinity of the University were the only people who protested the ice station being located on the campus. As we have pointed out in previous issues, it is the University that is the chief sufferer from the ice station. To all appearances it is located on University property.

We hope that the protest of the faculty augmenting the protests of neighbors and the Covenant Hospital will be sufficient to secure the removal of the ice station from the campus to a location more in keeping with the selling of ice.

LACK OF BUILDINGS

IN the years 1921 and 1922 students and faculty members at the University of Omaha complained often of the lack of adequate buildings and the crowding of 250 students in the cramped quarters of the University. W. Robert Jenkins, a former student, said Tuesday. Today the regular day school enrollment at the University of Omaha is close to 600.

With the exception of a decrepit science hall and an overcrowded library the building facilities of the University of Omaha are essentially the same as they were fifteen years ago. Though the enrollment has more than doubled building facilities continue to lag far behind the growth of the University.

In view of the foregoing it seems very clear to us that the proposed Omaha University building program falls very nicely into the category of "useful public works" which the government is encouraging through the PWA to stimulate recovery. A PWA building program is the only means by which the shortage in buildings at Omaha University can be remedied. We would certainly like to see a determined effort made by friends of the University to secure these badly needed buildings.

Refuse Receptacles Rampant

By MACY BAUM

Step by step Omaha University approaches its goal—to become one of the best-equipped colleges in this section of the country.

First we became a municipal institution. Next we secured an ice house on our campus. And Wednesday, as a grand climax to the efforts of all our friends and supporters, the campus was dotted with bright, shining, brilliant, sparkling, scintillating, dazzling, flashing GARBAGE CANS!

Yes, that's right. We mean garbage cans. Up in the headline we called them refuse receptacles, but down here in the quiet and solitude of the third paragraph, where no one ever penetrates, we can come out with the horrid, brutal truth—they are garbage cans.

The college administration has issued orders that the cans are to be used for:

1. Old lunch wrappings.
2. Apple cores.
3. Orange peels.
4. Broken shoelaces.
5. Back issues of The Gateway, Orphan, Bootstraps, etc.

The same college administration has issued orders that the same cans are NOT to be used for:

1. Tom-toms during the performance of Indian dances.
2. Places of confinement for pint-sized underclassmen during Freshmen week.
3. Lecture notes.

The Gateway staff suggests that all news tips be placed in these containers. The garbage collectors will pay as much attention to them as The Gateway ever did.

Thru The Keyhole

Looks like everybody is bluffing everybody else in the fag contest...today will tell the tale....The Betas and the Thetas say they are allowing their pledges to pay their dues in wrappers....Wonder what Minnie would have thought if she had seen Bob dancing around with a doll at fraternity meeting Monday nite....Amy told "Tiny" that he dare not call her up at a certain hour each evening because of her craze to listen to a certain orchestra....she informed he that any time between six and seven was O. K....Congrats to "Tiny" Ryan, John Vogel, Elinor Johnson, Gladys Lehr for their election to office...Race informs me that he is not going steady any more and that he is still the best date on the campus (well, that is one man's idea).

FRAN NELSON OPENING A DOOR

Fran Nelson had a 'ell of a time Saturday night trying to open the door at a joint....Wonder when we will know the father of the Orphan....My guess is that Nelson, Butler or Knipprath or maybe all three....Ma-le Day is now going to be called May 1? Day....It seems that Jackson and Bivens had the spotlight turned on them a few weeks ago when they were saying adieu.

THETA FIRESIDE OF NO INTEREST

The Theta fireside last Saturday night was not of great interest to Gardner and Nelson....they figured there were too many Pi O's there....The school is going to the dogs (again?)....what with all the sissies around and everything....Give us the days when Woerner, Schlifke, Macken and a few others (and your correspondent and Knipprath) were stirring things up....Three-a-day Vogel....Kissproof Leigh....Bull Brawner....Madame Zero Jackson....Sinthiya Christensen....Toar Medlock....Powerhouse Gammon....Gunnar Neiman....Myope Fore....Nyaah Davis....That's all for the Rogues Gallery this week....Next week "Elast Lynne"....or Why He Barks Like a Fox....The G Men are all set for May 1? Day....so watch yourselves, boys and girls, and keep that old jug well hidden....(but whose going to carry a jug?).

I wonder what part moccasins will play in the affairs of the day....Race is lousy with Indian stories....and without them....he has no pride of ancestry or hope of posterity....There are several people within my acquaintance who would like to have Ruth Saalfeld quit running to Lincoln so d— often.

As we go to press we hear that Woodrow Tietz, president of the Student Council, is seriously ill at home with pneumonia and that it is feared double pneumonia will result. We hope that he will recover and be back on the campus soon.

IN THE OPEN

The small boy was much interested in watching a bald-headed man scratch the fringe of hair around the side of his head. The man kept it up so long that the boy finally reached over and said in a loud whisper: "Say, mister, you'll never catch him that way. Why don't you run him out in the open?"

Faculty Join Covenant Hospital In Protesting Ice House on Campus

A resolution protesting the placing of an ice house at the intersection of 24th and Pratt streets to be submitted to the city council, was approved at the faculty meeting Wednesday evening, May 8.

Besides the protestation by the faculty, individual letters will be sent by J. E. Davidson, chairman of the Board of Regents, and President Sealock.

The resolution read: "The following committee is instructed by the faculty of the Municipal University of Omaha to protest the placing of an ice house at the intersection of Twenty-fourth and Pratt streets, on or adjacent to the campus of the university."

The committee appointed to address the petition to Mayor Towl and the commissioners was as follows: Mr. I. W. Hammer, chairman; Mrs. Laura Johnson, Dr. Wilfred Payne, and Dr. V. Royce West.

The Evangelical Covenant Hospital will submit their petition at the same time, signed by property owners in the vicinity, and the hospital staff.

The Covenant Hospital petition is addressed to the Honorable City Commissioners, and reads:

"We, the undersigned voters in the city of Omaha, do hereby protest to your honorable body, the maintenance of an ice distributing station on the southeast corner of North 24th and Pratt streets.

"We make this protest because this station is not a necessity, as another station is located within one block to the north.

"At the location that this station has been placed, it is an eyesore and not at all in keeping with the other properties in the neighborhood, including the campus of the Municipal University of Omaha and The Evangelical Covenant Hospital.

"We believe further, that it will be a nuisance in this particular location and respectfully request its immediate removal."

Mrs. Jenkins Gives Books to U. Library

About 300 books were donated to the Municipal University of Omaha library from the collection of Dr. Daniel E. Jenkins, first president of the University, by his widow, Mrs. Jenkins, last week.

"The collection comprised books of every field Dr. Jenkins was interested in, including copies concerning psychology, logic, and sociology," said Miss Inez Chestnut, librarian, Tuesday.

Count Old Gold Wrappers Today

The Old Gold cigarette contest will close this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when wrappers deposited in ballot boxes by University fraternities will be removed and counted.

The counting will be in charge of a committee consisting of John Moucka, president of the Pan-Hellenic council; Franklin Buxton, editor of The Gateway; and Morris Fisher, business manager of The Gateway. The $35 in cash to be awarded to the two highest fraternities will be paid next Friday.

NAME COMMITTEE TO SELECT BEST STORIES IN PAPER

Preliminary Judges to Choose Articles for Gateway Contest.

TO AWARD PRIZES

The naming of a committee of two students and one faculty member to act as a "sifting" committee in the first annual contest to select the best editorial, feature, and two best news stories appearing in The Gateway in the fall and spring semesters was announced Friday by the Board of Student Publications.

The committee, consisting of Mrs. Volta Torrey and Edwin Callin, student members, and Mr. A. M. Johnson, instructor in English, will select the ten best editorials, news stories, and features appearing in The Gateway for each semester. The committee will in turn give their selections to a group of judges composed of newspapermen on the staff of the Omaha Bee-News and the Omaha World-Herald.

Decide Prizes Soon

Prizes will be awarded for the best editorial, feature, and news story appearing each semester as selected by the judges. A prize will also be awarded for the second best news story. Prizes will be awarded at commencement and will consist of either cash or books. The Board of Student Publications will in the near future decide the type of prize to be awarded.

Money to pay for the prizes will be taken from the fund which accrues to the Board of Publications from the surplus in The Gateway treasury at the end of each semester. The Board receives twenty per cent of the surplus.

Jenkins Tells of Crowded Conditions At Omaha University in 1921-22

"Isn't the school quite crowded?" asked Mr. W. Robert Jenkins, who attended Omaha University in 1921-22, upon returning to the campus last Tuesday after an absence of thirteen years, and finding the same buildings with a greatly increased enrollment.

Mr. Jenkins' father, Dr. Daniel E. Jenkins, was the first president of Omaha University, and served in that capacity from 1908 until 1926, when he retired because of ill health. Dr. Jenkins held the position of President Emeritus until his death in 1927.

"When I was a student here there was an enrollment of about 250 day students," stated Jenkins. "Even then it was a great problem to find room for them with the facilities of the University. It must be quite a problem, at the present time, with an enrollment almost double what it was in 1922."

Mr. Jenkins lived in Chicago until recently, when he was selected as the research director of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company of Minneapolis. He and his mother, Mrs. Daniel Jenkins, spent the past week in disposing of the former president's collection of books from his private library. Of these nearly 300 have been donated to Omaha University. Mr. Jenkins now makes his home in Minneapolis.

"The Gateway was a struggling weekly thirteen years ago, and was having a difficult time financially," stated Jenkins.

The progress of the school news paper interested him and he showed interest when told of the ten-page paper published last week as an Anniversary Day edition.

During Mr. Jenkins' two years at Omaha University only three of the present faculty were faculty members. These were Miss Nell Ward, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. V. H. Vartanian, assistant professor of philosophy, and Dr. W. Gilbert James, Dean of the School of Fine Arts.

Elect Officers For Next Year

Election of officers for the year 1935-1936 featured the meeting of the Women's Athletic Association held Thursday evening.

Nominees were as follows: President, Hortense Geisler and Elinor Johnson; vice president, Alice Hillstrom and Maryanna Harrington; secretary, Ellen Forehead and Phyllis Knudsen; treasurer, June Erickson and Eloise Johnson.

Plans for the Play day to be held for the Omaha high schools on Saturday, May 11, were discussed and arrangements for the spring banquet of the W. A. A. were completed.

Orchesis presented the Rhapsody in Blue and Indian Rhythms at the Junior Chamber of Commerce smoker Wednesday night.

Turpen, anchor man on the Abraham Lincoln 880-yard relay team, staved off his pursuers just long enough to lunge against the tape a shade ahead of Rhodes, Central spring ace, and the Lynx won the Omaha University Invitation Track meet at Tech High Saturday. Benson High was second.

Coach Bill Layland's kids were victors by virtue of six first places. Led by Andersen, a great distance runner, who beat off the finishing drive of Lawton of Benson in both the half-mile and mile, the Lynxmen were just too good on both the field and the cinders. They also captured first place in the 440-yard dash, the Javelin and broad jump.

Walter Rhodes, Central speed merchant, came home ahead of the pack in fair time; Vallery of Tee Jay upset the dope bucket when he beat out Hall of North in the low hurdles.

The first three Nebraskans in each event automatically qualified for the Nebraska state meet at Lincoln, May 10 and 11.

The Indian theme will permeate the program. The girls will be placed in ten tribes to compete with each other in the various games. The name tags and luncheon decorations will take Indian forms, and the folk dances in the afternoon will be Indian in character.

The Omaha University Play Days have gained increasing interest, according to the statistics given out by Miss Diamond. The first year there were 55 guests from Omaha high schools. The second year the parochial schools were included and 80 guests arrived. Last year Council Bluffs was added to the list with an attendance of 100. This year with Sidney, Ia., and Blair, Neb., included, the W. A. A. expects 200 guests.
